

David Favre

David Favre has been a professor of law at Michigan State University College of Law for over thirty years. Professor Favre has written several articles and books dealing with animal issues including such topics as animal cruelty, wildlife law, the use of animals for scientific research, and international control of animal trade. His books include Animal Law: Welfare, Interest, and Rights (2nd ed.), Animal Law and Dog Behavior and International Trade in Endangered Species.

He also has presented to international audiences on these topics. He created and is editor-in-chief of the worlds largest animal legal web resource, HYPERLINK "http://www.animallaw.info/" \t "_blank" www.animallaw.info. He was a national officer of the Animal Legal Defense Fund for 22 years. Presently he is the Legislative Chair of the American Bar Association/TIPS Committee on Animal Law. He served as interim dean of the Law College from 1993 to 1996 and from 1999 to 2000. He teaches Property, International Environmental Law, Wildlife Law, and Animal Law.

Now residing on a farm in lower Michigan, Professor Favre shares his space with sheep, chicken and the usual dogs and cats.